

Packing List for Sheep/Goat Mountain Hunting

- Good quality “broken in” boots
- Three pairs of synthetic blend socks and liner socks
- Three pairs synthetic long underwear pants and shirts
- Two pair of synthetic fleece low nap pants
- Belt
- Two synthetic light weight shirts
- Two heavier synthetic zip up shirts
- One light/medium synthetic zip up jacket (depending on anticipated temperatures)
- One compressible “Hollow fill” style liner coat for cold weather
- Quality light weight rain gear pants and long coat
- One pair light weight leather/synthetic gloves and one pair thicker cold weather mittens if necessary
- Fleece neck warmer (can be used as a stocking cap also)
- Sleeping bag and pad appropriate for temperatures you plan on enduring
- Baseball type hat
- Binoculars
- Spotting scope and lightweight stand
- Range finder
- Bipod for rifle
- Passport, visas, Health certificate
- U.S. Customs declaration form 4457 for rifles if hunting internationally
- Digital Camera with extra battery, charger and extra flashcard
- Daypack-waterproof
- Parachute cord-50 feet
- Zip ties, one dozen, one foot long
- Name tags for trophy skins and horns. Can also be used as luggage tags
- Small light-weight tape measure with inches and centimeters
- Small headlamp with a set of extra batteries
- Hunting belt long enough to go around your waist outside your coat to hold shells, range finder, knife
- Multi-tool with pliers
- Folding small sharp knife
- Small sharpening device
- Scalpel knife with extra blades
- Bandanas – two (Mosquito repellent imbedded ones are super)
- Shell holder, belt type or the type that fit on your rifle stock
- Rifle with sling
- Scope covers
- Ammo – 40 rounds in original box with protective wrap around it
- Satellite phone
- Electrical tape- ¼ roll for covering end of barrel
- Duct tape – ½ roll for everything
- Sanitary wipes (Individually wrapped)
- Toilet paper ½ roll, kept in a gallon size Ziploc freezer baggie with sanitary wipes
- Small journal and two cheap pens
- Three large plastic garbage bags
- Mosquito repellent wipes (Depending on climate)
- Iodine imbedded wipes –three. Use them on cuts especially when skinning.
- Blister pads, a variety of band-aids
- Small Ziploc of pain pills, small soap, eye drops
- Lens cleaners-individually wrapped ones are great
- Ear plugs-for sighting in rifle. Also for guides or hunting partner that snores
- Paperback book
- Camp shoes
- Electrical converters, if going overseas
- Extra large canvas/cordura duffle bag for hauling capes and horns home on airline